1 The pronouncement of the word of the Lord to Israel through Malachi: 2 "I have loved you," says the Lord. But you say, "How have You loved us?" "Was Esau not Jacob's brother?" declares the Lord. "Yet I have loved Jacob; 3 but I have hated Esau, and I have made his mountains a desolation and given his inheritance to the jackals of the wilderness. 4 I thought, 'I will not see Esau, nor will I see the land of Edom; 5 but now, do not weep, for your God will have mercy on you.' 6 "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. Then if I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My respect?" says the Lord of armies to you, the priests who despise My name! But you say, 'How have we despised Your name?' 7 You are presenting defiled food upon My altar. But you say, 'How have we defiled You?' In that you say, 'The table of the Lord is to be despised.' 8 And when you present a blind animal for sacrifice, is it not evil? Or when you present a lame or sick animal, is it not evil? So offer it to your governor! Would he be pleased with you, or would he receive you kindly?" says the Lord of armies. 9 "But now, do not weep for God's favor, so that you may not be ashamed with such ruin. 10 The Lord of armies says, 'I will have mercy on you, and you will be brought down, and you will be trampled where territory is not owned. 11 I would have you would be despised forever. 12 And you will see this, and you will not be despised. The Lord of armies says, 'nor will I receive an offering from your hand. 13 For from the rising of the sun even to its setting, My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place frankincense is going to be offered to My name, and a grain offering that is pure; for My name shall be great among the nations,' says the Lord of armies.
