1 The pronouncement of the word of the Lord to Israel through Malachi: 2 "I have loved you," says the Lord. But you say, "How have You loved us?" "Was Esau not Jacob's brother?" declares the Lord. "Yet I have loved Jacob; 3 but I have hated Esau, and I have made his mountains a desolation and given his inheritance to the jackals of the wilderness." 4 "I thought you would say, 'We have been loyal, and we have not defiled You; so why are we brought down, and we are to be uprooted, and our inheritance will be taken from us?' 5 'The Lord says, 'The earth will be brought down, and you with it, because you have defiled My territory and you have despised My name and you have despised My altars, and you have said, 'I will see this, and you will say, 'The Lord be exalted beyond the border of Israel!'" 6 "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. Then if I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My respect?" says the Lord of armies to you, the priests who despise My name! But you say, 'How have we despised Your name?' 7 You are presenting defiled food upon My altar. But you say, 'How have we defiled You?' In that you say, "The table of the Lord is to be despised.' 8 And when you present a blind animal for sacrifice, is it not evil? Or when you present a lame or sick animal, is it not evil. So offer it to your governor! Would not I be pleased with you, or would I be received by you kindly?" says the Lord of armies. "But now, do not be afraid for God's favor, so that you will be able to stand with such confidence, and you will not be brought down, and you will only stand there where you would have been. My altar for frankincense, I am not pleased with you," says the Lord of armies, "nor will I accept an offering from your hand. For from the rising of the sun even to its setting, My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place frankincense is going to be offered to My name, and a grain offering that is pure; for My name shall be great among the nations," says the Lord of armies.
